

COVID Response

The Canada Atlantic Region are aware that COVID-19 has changed the way many of us attend meetings. By now, most meetings are being held in-person again. We encourage members to follow directives of leading health authorities and government agencies. We also remind members that our behaviour reflects the fellowship, and that we should be respectful of the policies of meeting facilities we rent. At this time our regional business meetings are held online using the Zoom platform. You can find access information on our website. Recovery meetings welcome all members, so we ask you to remember that not everyone has the same comfort level with personal space or physical contact. Stay safe and ask before you hug!
